He's gone too!

Presentation Outline

- Lessons from Vancouver Mayor's Task Force on Housing Affordability
- Lessons from Vancouver's efforts to be part of the innovation economy

In the past, affordable housing was made possible through federal and provincial direct funding and housing programs

These are just some of the programs that made affordable housing possible

THE NEW FACE OF SOCIAL HOUSING

BRITISH COLUMBIA | Projects win praise for modern design, green construction

WEEKEND
EXTRA

BY FRANCES BULA
VANCOUVER SUN

The corner of First and Main in Vancouver is home these days to a sad-looking Burger King, a muffler shop, a tire store, Buster's Towing and a steady stream of commuter traffic.

It's not a place where you'd expect to find an architectural diamond.

But there will be one three years from now, when an unusual new building will rise on that corner. It will be a model of green architecture and innovative design, with an unusually rich exterior texture, in sharp contrast to the city's ubiquitous all-glass towers.

It's a building to which the city's in-house jury of architecture critics — the urban-design panel — didn't just give the usual approval recently. It also commended it as an exemplary project, with its repetitions of simple cubic forms, its graceful garden and common spaces, and the way its elevator will deliver incoming residents to a landing where they can look out over the downtown skyline.

That kind of praise doesn't often

CITY OF VANCOUVER

ADMINISTRATIVE REPORT

Report Date: November 6, 2007
Author: Cameron Gray
Phone No.: 604.873.7207
RTS No.: 07019
VanRIMS No.: 11-2400-11
Meeting Date: November 13, 2007

TO: Vancouver City Council

FROM: The Director of the Housing Centre in consultation with the Directors of Development Services, Planning, Real Estate Services and Social Planning

SUBJECT: City/Province Social and Supportive Housing Partnership

RECOMMENDATION

- A. THAT Council refer consideration of Recommendations B and C to a public meeting to be held on the evening of December 12, 2007.
- B. THAT Council approve the Memorandum of Understanding between the City and the Province (BC Housing) attached as Appendix A to this report whereby 12 City-owned sites would be developed for social and supportive housing for the homeless and those at risk of homelessness such as the mentally ill, people with addictions, and residents of the City's Single Room Occupancy (SRO) hotels, and whereby:
 - the City would lease 12 sites to non-profit sponsors of social and supportive housing for 99 years with a nominal prepaid lease rent

However, as federal $$$ dried up and provincial $$$ declined, municipalities had to become more involved in the delivery of affordable housing. In 2007 Vancouver offered 14 sites for affordable housing

It also involved private sector through new rental housing programs STIR & Rental 100

Incentives offered

- ▣ DCL Waiver
- ▣ Parking Relaxations
- ▣ Density Bonus
- ▣ Expedited Processing

✓ Two types of projects created:
Mixed strata/rental and 100% rental

Significantly more market rental units created with mixed strata/rental vs. 100% rental projects

1,330 units of “affordable” market rental housing built in 19 buildings.

In 2012, the Mayor established a Task Force on Housing Affordability

City distributes report prepared by the Roundtable on Building Form and Design identifying five priorities:

- Rezone arterials for higher densities;
- Create new transition zones behind arterials for townhouses, stacked townhouses and higher density ground-oriented housing;
- Modify C-2 zoning;
- Create more housing choices in RS zones;
- Appoint an Affordability Ombudsman.

Roundtable included representatives of AIBC, PIBC, UDI and CHBA
Chair Michael Geller

City of Surrey: The Future Lives Here

Feb 27, 2009

THE BUSINESS OF GOOD TICKETS

At a time when many people view the future with trepidation, the City of Surrey is embracing it. In fact, its slogan is "the future lives here."

In conclusion, your future shouldn't just live here. It should work here. It should be here! And ultimately it will be!
